INTRODUCTION

01

MN Plastic Surgery was built on a refusal to accept “just good enough.”
Founded by Dr. Arif Chaudhry, MN exists as a correction to an industry that became rushed, corporate, and disconnected. Where templates replaced identity and volume replaced care, we chose a higher standard.

At MN Plastic Surgery, everything starts with listening — then precision follows.

No trends.

No ego.

No shortcuts.

Just honest guidance, intentional craft, and results that feel perfect for the person who lives in them.

A NEW CHAPTER

A stylized illustration of a woman with brown skin, wearing a black hijab with teal-colored accents. She is looking upwards and to the right with a slight smile. The illustration is composed of bold, flat colors and simple lines.

These guidelines represent the cornerstone of MN Plastic Surgery market identity—not just rules, but strategic tools for consistent communication. They ensure your brand speaks with one voice across all platforms, building recognition that transforms into customer trust.

These standards provide creative boundaries that inspire rather than restrict, allowing your team to innovate while maintaining MN authentic essence. Consider this manual your strategic compass for strengthening customer loyalty and standing out in today's competitive landscape.

MN Plastic Surgery is an independent, surgeon-led aesthetic practice founded by Dr. Arif Chaudhry — a non-conformist, detail-driven plastic surgeon known for innovation, honesty, and transformative results.

Built around a deep human principle, MN believes that beauty is not defined by trends or surgeon preferences, but by each patient's own vision.

The clinic's role is to listen carefully, understand that vision fully, and pursue it with excellence and without compromise.

Specializing in advanced breast and body surgery, facial contouring, revision cases, and gender-affirming procedures, MN Plastic Surgery rejects the corporate, blue-toned, assembly-line model that dominates the region.

BRAND PLATAFORM

02

This platform is the structural foundation of the MNPS brand. It defines who we are, what we deliver, and how we communicate — internally and externally.

It functions as the system that holds the brand together, protecting its essence and ensuring coherence across every touchpoint. This is not a slogan or a campaign tool. It is the operating framework that guides behavior, choices, and expression — consistently, intentionally, and without compromise.

The MNPS Brand Platform is structured around five core axes:

- WHO WE ARE
- HOW WE ARE
- WHAT WE DO
- HOW WE DO IT

WHO WE ARE

- Is it clear?
- Can we explain this clearly to the team?
- Is it sufficient to brief our communication partners?
- Can we describe our business accurately in our texts, website, etc.?

Purpose

The reason a company exists beyond profit. It has three key strenghts?

1. It centers the patient’s emotional reality.

This purpose speaks to what people truly seek from plastic surgery — not just aesthetic change, but a deeper shift in how they feel about themselves. It positions MNPS as a practice that prioritizes identity, confidence, and psychological wellbeing, not vanity or trends.

2. It signals a higher standard of care and craft.

The phrase “good enough ” captures the refusal to accept mediocrity, shortcuts, or generic results. Without sounding arrogant, it clearly communicates that MNPS delivers a different level of precision, attention, and excellence than what patients typically experience in the market.

3. It reflects your outlier mentality and the brand’s bold personality.

This statement has attitude, honesty, and clarity — matching your vision of an aesthetic, futuristic brand that challenges the traditional establishment. It is confident and unapologetically aligned with the “No blue. No BS. Excellence without compromise. Outlier by design.” philosophy.

Purpose

“To elevate how you feel in your own skin - because “just good enough” never is.”

Brand Valeus

How we do what we do. These are our values.

1. Listen — like no one else does.

We hear what people actually mean, not just what they say. We listen past the scripts, past the clichés, past the noise — until we understand the human being in front of us with total clarity.

2. Refuse — anything ordinary.

If it’s generic, rushed, superficial, or “industry standard,” we reject it. We refuse trends, shortcuts, and mediocrity in all forms — even when they’re convenient.

3. Elevate — every detail, every time.

We take everything one level higher: technique, communication, experience, environment. If it doesn’t push upward, it doesn’t make it into the room.

4. Clarify — with zero filters.

We cut through the noise with honesty sharp enough to matter. No sugarcoating, no marketing fog — just truth, precision, and straight answers.

5. Craft — like it’s the only case that matters.

Every plan, every incision, every contour is intentional. No templates. No autopilot. Just meticulous, individualized creation that respects identity, not trends.

Process & Services

MN Plastic Surgery translates personal vision into outcomes you can live in — through surgical craft, intentional design, and an identity-first philosophy.

1. HOW WE OPERATE (OUR PROCESS)

1.1 Understand

We listen harder than the industry ever has. We map identity, intention, and reality — without filters, scripts, or assumptions.

1.2 Personalize

Every plan is built from scratch.
Every decision is intentional.
Every recommendation is tailored — not trend-driven, not algorithmic, not “what everyone else does.”

1.3 Execute

We deliver with precision, focus, and zero compromise.
No rushing.
No “good enough.”
Only craftsmanship that matches the patient’s vision — not the industry’s limits.

1.4 Support

We show up — before, during, and long after the procedure.
Clear guidance.
Human connection.
Real continuity.
No handoffs. No drop-offs. No disappearing acts.

2. WHAT WE OFFER (OUR SERVICE WORLD)

Aesthetic Surgery

Surgery done with intention, not ego.
Breast, body, and facial procedures delivered with focus and individualized aesthetics.

Revision Surgery

Where people come when “the industry” let them down.
We correct, restore, and rebuild trust through technical mastery and honesty.

Gender-Affirming Care

Identity-centered. Trauma-informed. Respect-first.
Top surgery and contouring that honor the patient’s vision and lived experience.

Supportive Non-Surgical Care

Only what matters. Nothing that doesn’t.
Adjunct treatments used to protect, enhance, or maintain surgical results — never as upsells.

REDEFINING THE
STANDARDS OF
PLASTIC SURGERY.

3. WHY THIS MATTERS

This isn’t a menu. It’s a mindset.
MN Plastic Surgery doesn’t sell procedures.
MN Plastic Surgery builds outcomes — through listening, intention, precision, and humanity.

This framework keeps the brand honest.

Every service and every decision follows the same logic:
Understand - Personalize - Execute - Support.

This is our ecosystem.

A connected, intelligent, no-BS way of working that protects the brand and the patient — every time.

Brand Vision

The brand vision is the future MN Plastic Surgery is building toward — the long-term destination that guides every decision. It describes what the brand is becoming, how it will reshape the market, and the impact it aims to have on patients, culture, and the industry.

For MN Plastic Surgery, the vision defines a future where:

- identity-aligned results become the new standard,
- listening replaces prescribing,
- “perfect for you” replaces “perfect,”
- and patients who once felt overlooked finally feel seen, respected, and understood.

It is the north star that ensures the brand grows with intention and never loses its essence.

Brand Vision

“To become the benchmark for uncompromising, human-centered aesthetic surgery.”

Positioning

How we want to be perceived in the minds of consumers and in the market. It clarifies where MN Plastic Surgery stands, what it stands for, and why it is different from every other clinic.

Positioning is the strategic choice that shapes perception — it determines the space MN Plastic Surgery occupies in the market and the role it plays in the lives of patients. It is based on our key differentiators:

- 1. Deep Listening & Human-Centered Consultations
- 2. Precision-Driven, Low-Volume Surgical Practice
- 3. Complex Revision Expertise & Corrective Honesty
- 4. Identity-Respecting Gender-Affirming Care

REDEFINING THE
STANDARDS OF
PLASTIC SURGERY.

1. Deep Listening & Human-Centered Consultations

What it is:
A longer, structured, honest consultation where the surgeon actually listens — not rushes. Patients are treated as individuals with stories, fears, identities, and specific visions of beauty, not as “cases” or “procedures.”

Why it’s a real differentiator:

- The local market offers short, transactional, volume-driven consults.
- Most patients report not being heard, judged, or pushed toward trends they don’t want.
- Listening is not “bedside manner” — it’s a clinical advantage that shapes safer, better results.

REDEFINING THE
STANDARDS OF
PLASTIC SURGERY.

2. Precision-Driven, Low-Volume Surgical Practice

What it is:

Surgery performed with focus, technical rigor, and intentional aesthetics — not squeezed between back-to-back cases. MN Plastic Surgery prioritizes quality over quantity, delivering individualized surgical plans with uncompromising execution.

Why it’s a real differentiator:

- High-volume clinics dominate the Minnesota market.
- Patients complain of rushed care, copy-paste techniques, and inconsistent outcomes.
- Low volume = fewer mistakes, better results, safer recoveries, and more individualized outcomes

REDEFINING THE
STANDARDS OF
PLASTIC SURGERY.

3. Complex Revision Expertise & Corrective Honesty

What it is:

A real capability to assess, explain, and correct failed or disappointing surgeries. MNPS offers honest evaluation, realistic options, and technically sound revision strategies.

Why it’s a real differentiator:

- Revision cases require skill, patience, and transparency most clinics avoid.
- The local market is known for turning patients away, downplaying problems, or recommending the same technique that failed before.
- Being a safe, skilled destination for revisions builds immediate trust and authority.

REDEFINING THE
STANDARDS OF
PLASTIC SURGERY.

4. Identity-Respecting Gender-Affirming Care

What it is:
Top surgery delivered with dignity, clarity, without judgment, without rushing, without treating trans and non-binary patients as “exceptions.”

Why it’s a real differentiator:

- Many regional options lack sensitivity, time, or real understanding.
- Patients seek safety, respect, and intelligence — not tokenism or performative inclusion.

Brand Narrative/Essence/Manifesto

Same lips. Same noses. Same everything.
Can you imagine a world like that?
We're in it.
And it's fucking boring.

We prefer something real:
you.

Your lips. Your nose. Your proportions. Your identity.
Your everything — refined, elevated, and intentional.

At MN, your vision isn't a suggestion.
It's the blueprint.

We don't chase trends.
We don't copy formulas.
And we never compromise.

We listen deeply.
We design intentionally.
We build with precision, proportion, and purpose —
with excellence as a standard, not a promise.

Every decision is deliberate.
Every detail is intentional.

Every result is crafted to deliver your version of excellence.

That's what makes us outliers.
Not by accident,
but by design.

If you want generic, you know where to go.
If you want something built around who you are,
you're in the right place.

WHAT WE DO

Do we have enough information to explain what we do?
Can we clearly express our brand promise and value proposition?

Unique Value Proposition

UVP is the permanent strategic anchor that connects purpose to offer.
The filter for every service, every message, every decision.
The truth only MN Plastic Surgeyr can claim in a market full of generic solutions.

Every new offer must answer:
“Does this translate the patient’s vision into results they want to live in?”
If not, the offer is off-brand.

UVP Stament:
“Translating your vision of beauty Into results you actually want to live in — not what they think you should.”

REDEFINING THE
STANDARDS OF
PLASTIC SURGERY.

What this UVP means (Strategic Explanation)

1. Beauty begins with the patient’s vision — not industry trends.

MNPS starts by deeply understanding who the patient is, how they see themselves, and what “right” means for them.

2. Results are designed for identity, not templates.

While most clinics deliver what’s trendy, expected, or algorithmic, MN builds outcomes that make sense for a person’s anatomy, culture, expression, and goals.

3. MN Plastic Surgery protects the patient from external pressure.

“Not what they think you should”= not what doctors assume, not what social media showcases, not what trend cycles dictate.

4. MN Plastic Surgery offers aesthetic results people can live in, not pose with.

Outcomes that feel natural, proportional, long-term, comfortable, emotionally aligned — not artificially “perfect.”

5. The brand becomes the safe, intelligent alternative in a generic market.

In a landscape of “same lips, same noses, same everything,” MN stands as the practice that respects individuality above all.

REDEFINING THE
STANDARDS OF
PLASTIC SURGERY.

Brand Promise

The brand promise is the commitment that shapes every interaction, every decision, every outcome.

It is how MN Plastic Surgery shows up in the world — consistently, unmistakably, and with intention.

It is the experience patients can expect every time, regardless of service or context.

Every action must answer:
“Does this embody deep listening, intentional design, and results that feel authentically right for the patient?”

Brand Promise Stament:
“We’ll listen deeply, design intentionally, and craft results that feel authentically yours.”

REDEFINING THE
STANDARDS OF

Unique Value Proposition (UVP) vs Brand Promise

1. Unique Value Proposition (UVP)

What is uniquely delivered.

It’s the core differentiator — the thing only MNPS does and that the market cannot easily replicate.

- It is permanent, even if services change.
- It explains why MNPS is different, not what MNPS guarantees.
- It is an anchor for positioning and commercial narrative.

2. Brand Promise

What people can count on, every single time.

It’s the experience you consistently deliver — the emotional and functional commitment the brand makes to the patient.

- It is an expectation you must fulfill.
- It expresses what the patient receives, not the market gap.
- It’s more customer-facing, more emotion-driven, more practical.

The brand promise is what you deliver every time someone interacts with MN Plastic Surgery, regardless of the procedure. While the UVP is unique, the Brand Promise is universal across all your audiences.

Based on that, we have MN Plastic Surgery brand mission:

HOW WE DO IT

- Do we have our differentiators defined?
- Do they complement our value proposition?
- Can we communicate them clearly to our clients?

Points of Differentiaton

External translation of internal differentiators

1. Aesthetic Results That Feel Like You — Not Like Everyone Else

Most clinics deliver the same lips, same noses, same everything. Cute... if you’re building a collection of clones. At MN Plastic Surgery, your result is built around your identity, your proportions, your vibe — not “what’s trending on Tuesday.”
Perception of value: You get results people recognize as you.

2. A Consultation Experience That Actually Listens (And Changes Everything)

In a market where consultations often feel rushed, pre-scripted, or transactional, MNPS offers a listening-first approach that patients consistently describe as “the first time I felt understood.” Your vision becomes the blueprint — not an afterthought.
Perception of value: You feel understood, not processed. No guessing. No templates. No “trust me, I know best.”

3. Honest Guidance That Protects You From Unrealistic Promises

We’re not here to upsell you. We’re here to save you from regrets. If it won’t look right, age right, or feel right — you’ll hear it from us. Nicely. But clearly. We’re basically the friend who tells you when your haircut idea is a bad idea...except with surgical credentials.
Perception of value: You get honest guidance, not sales tactics. No pressure. No hype. No “perfect.” Just perfect, for your life.

3. The Perfect-For-You-Not-Perfect Craft Standard™

Precision, proportion, honesty, intention — the MN aesthetic signature.

What it is: MN doesn’t chase “perfect.”
It chases perfect for you — the alignment of anatomy, identity, proportion, design, and expectation.

- This standard includes:
- honest expectation setting
 - proportional craft
 - precision decision-making
 - rejecting shortcuts
 - designing results people can live in, not pose for

LOGOTYPE

03

Overview

The MN Plastic Surgery logotype is the most immediate expression of the brand. It is our signature, our mark of authorship, and the visual shorthand for everything we stand for.

It appears across every touchpoint — from digital platforms to physical environments — anchoring the brand with consistency, confidence, and recognition. Wherever MN shows up, the logotype signals intention.

Formally, the logotype balances precision and character. Its structure is strong, controlled, and deliberate — reflecting surgical rigor and uncompromising standards. At the same time, its details carry a quiet edge, expressing MNPS’s non-conformist spirit and refusal to blend into a category defined by sameness.

Nothing about the mark is decorative. Each proportion, angle, and spacing choice reinforces clarity, authority, and focus. It communicates stability without stiffness, confidence without arrogance, and modernity without trend-chasing.

Because the logotype carries the full weight of the brand, its use is carefully governed. Clear guidelines protect its integrity while allowing it to function across real-world applications — digital, physical, editorial, and spatial — without dilution.

This mark is not designed to impress. It is designed to endure.

Precise. Intentional. Unmistakably MN Plastic Surgery.

HORIZONTAL

SYMBOL

ACRONYM

Horizontal (Primary Logo)

This is the most explicit and legible expression of the brand. It establishes immediate clarity, credibility, and trust — especially for new audiences. It clearly states who we are and what we do without requiring prior brand knowledge.

This mark belongs at first-contact touchpoints: the website homepage, key landing pages, the brand book cover, official documents, press materials, exterior signage, and any patient-facing material where clarity and trust are non-negotiable.

Positioning (Primary Logo)

The primary logo may be positioned top left, middle left, middle center and bottom left. These placements apply across all formats — portrait, landscape, and square — in both print and digital environments.

The primary logo should be positioned where it naturally establishes hierarchy, clarity, and balance within the layout. Asymmetry is encouraged when it creates tension, focus, and intentional negative space — never noise, never clutter.

Symbol

The symbol (MN) is reserved for moments of pure brand presence. It appears where explanation is unnecessary and restraint communicates confidence. This mark belongs in favicons, app icons, subtle signage details, embossing, stamps, environmental graphics, and refined brand applications where MNPS is already understood. The symbol should never introduce the brand — it should simply mark territory.

Acronym

MNPS is used once the brand has already been established and only after the trademark registration has been formally approved.

It lives in touchpoints where recognition is assumed and repetition reinforces identity rather than explains it. This includes digital interfaces, navigation systems, social media, content series, internal documents, apparel, and environments where the audience already knows they are inside the MNPS universe.

MNPS

Positioning (Symbol and Acronym)

The MN symbol and the MNPS acronym may be positioned independently. Both elements can be placed:

- at the top of the layout (left, center, or right),
- at the center of the layout (left, center, or right),
- or at the base of the layout (left, center, or right).

These placement rules apply consistently across all formats — portrait, landscape, and square — in both print and digital environments.

Avatar

When the MN Plastic Surgery MN symbol is used as an avatar on social or digital platforms, it must always appear within a containing shape. The container protects legibility at small sizes and allows the symbol to function as a clear, recognizable icon across platforms.

The M inside the container must always appear as a solid fill, never as a knock-out or transparent form. This ensures consistency, contrast, and visibility across varying backgrounds and interface conditions.

Color Usage

MN Plastic Surgery is bold by design. The logo system is intentionally flexible and can be used across the full MN color palette, including light, dark, and high-contrast backgrounds. This range reflects the brand’s confidence and refusal to play it safe.

There is one exception: Lymph (green) and blood (red) must never be used together in any logo application.

From a color theory standpoint, this pairing creates visual tension and imbalance that undermines clarity, elegance, and refinement. Simply put: it doesn’t look good — and MNPS does not tolerate visual compromise.backgrounds and interface conditions.

Structure and Scale

To maintain legibility, the MN Plastic Surgery logos and variations must adhere to minimum size requirements:

- at least 6mm in height when printed
- 30px in height when displayed digitally.

Equally important is maintaining adequate clear space around the logo, preventing other graphic elements from encroaching. This protection zone should equal the size of the letter N that forms the logo, ensuring the mark remains free from visual distraction and retains its impact.

Logos Integrity

It is critical to respect the integrity of the symbol in all its forms. Consistency and accuracy help build and protect our brand’s global image. Use only the official logo files as provided—never alter, distort, or recreate the logo. The proper application of the logos and symbols on appropriate backgrounds preserves our visual identity and reinforces brand recognition.

Remember: don’t modify our symbol in any way.

Don’t alter, distort or redesign the logos in any way.

Don’t alter the color, or add gradients and images.

Don’t flip or rotate it.

COLOUR

Color System: Environments, Not Hierarchies

At MN Plastic Surgery, color is behavioral, not ornamental. It is not chosen by preference, trend, or hierarchy, but by what the brand needs to communicate in a given moment.

For this reason, MN does not organize color into primary, secondary, or tertiary categories. Instead, color is organized by environment — the visual and emotional conditions in which communication takes place.

Each environment responds to intention, tone, and emotional state.

Light Environments — Clarity & Intelligence

Light environments are built for thinking, explaining, and structuring information. They prioritize clarity, legibility, and visual breathing room. Bone typically anchors these moments, creating space that feels intentional rather than empty.

These environments are used when the content carries density, when explanation matters, or when the tone must remain calm, authoritative, and precise. High-contrast colors may appear for emphasis, but always with restraint and purpose. Accent colors are never decorative here — they exist only to guide attention or reinforce meaning.

Light environments communicate control, intelligence, and confidence without pressure.

Dark Environments — Depth & Presence

Dark environments introduce weight, focus, and editorial gravity. Anchored primarily by Marrow, they slow the reader down and signal seriousness, intimacy, or technical depth.

These environments are used when the brand needs to feel grounded, authoritative, and composed. Contrast remains essential, but it is controlled and intentional. Color is never used to entertain or decorate — only to support hierarchy, readability, and tone.

Dark environments express confidence through restraint, not intimidation.

High-Impact Environments — Decision & Emphasis

High-impact environments exist for moments of affirmation, positioning, or reassurance. Blood and Lymph operate here with discipline and intent. Blood is used to signal conviction and decision. It is not a detail color, but a statement. It appears sparingly and deliberately, usually once per composition, to mark what truly matters.

Lymph is used to express human grounding, care, and safety. It supports moments of guidance, explanation, and reassurance — calm, but never neutral. These environments demand strong intention. Because of this, not all color combinations are permitted.

TYPOGRAPHY

INSTRUMENT

SANS

SERIF

Instrument Sans

Instrument Sans is the everyday voice of MNPS.

Clear, modern, and highly legible, it is used wherever information needs to flow effortlessly. It supports explanation, guidance, and conversation — allowing content to feel human, accessible, and confident without drawing attention to itself. This typeface carries the brand in its most functional moments. It is neutral by design, but never cold. Instrument Sans creates trust through clarity and comfort through consistency.

AaBbCc

Instrument
Sans

Instrument Sans

Instrument Sans (Primary Functional Typeface)

Definition

Instrument Sans is the primary operational typeface of the MNPS brand. It forms the structural foundation of the typographic system and must be used whenever clarity, legibility, and functional communication are required.

It is the default voice of the brand.

Purpose

Instrument Sans is used for:

- Explanatory content
- Informational and technical communication
- Guidance and instructional text
- Conversational body copy
- Interface-driven content

Approved Applications

Instrument Sans may be used without restriction in the following contexts:

- Running text (body paragraphs)
- Long-form content
- Subheadings

- Functional titles
- Footnotes
- Digital interfaces (website, social media, presentations)
- Captions
- Microcopy and system text

When in doubt, Instrument Sans should be the default typographic choice.

Misuse Guidelines

Instrument Sans must not be:

- Used as a dramatic or “impact” display font
- Applied for high-emphasis visual calls
- Treated as a decorative element

Its role is structural, not expressive.

Instrument Serif

Instrument Serif is one of MN Plastic Surgery expressive voice. It brings depth, contrast, and cultural weight to the system — used when the brand needs to slow the reader down and make a statement.

Its sharp serifs and high contrast signal confidence, authorship, and point of view. Instrument Serif is deliberate and contemporary, never ornamental or nostalgic.

It is used for emphasis: headlines, key statements, and editorial moments where MN asserts its stance rather than explains it.

Instrument Serif is designed to work in dialogue with Instrument Sans. When combined, Instrument Sans Condensed should be used as the supporting typeface, ensuring clear hierarchy and visual balance.

Together, they form a system that is both precise and expressive — grounded in clarity, elevated by intention.

AaBbCc

Instrument
Serif

Instrument Serif

Instrument Serif (Editorial Support Typeface)

Definition

Instrument Serif is the expressive and editorial typeface of the MNPS brand. It introduces contrast, emphasis, and refinement within the typographic system and should be used when the brand needs to assert tone, create hierarchy, or add intentional tension.

It is not the default voice — it is the accent.

Purpose

Instrument Serif is used for:

- Editorial emphasis
- Creating visual contrast
- Elevating institutional statements
- Highlighting specific words or short passages
- Refined brand expressions

Approved Applications

Instrument Serif may be used in the following contexts:

- Editorial subtitles
- Supporting phrases
- Short accents within long headlines
- Institutional calls
- Manifest-style micro statements
- Selective emphasis within layouts

When combined with Instrument Sans, Instrument Sans Condensed Regular must be used as the supporting typeface to ensure visual balance and reading comfort.

Misuse Guidelines

Instrument Serif must not be:

- Used for long running text
- Applied excessively within a single layout
- Used at the same hierarchical level as Eclisse
- Used without typographic contrast or purpose

Its role is expressive, not structural.

ECCLISSE

Eclisse

Eclisse is the signature of MNPS.

It is not a utility typeface, and it is not neutral by design. Eclisse exists to mark presence, authorship, and intent.

Used sparingly, Eclisse introduces attitude and character into the system. It appears in short statements, titles, and moments where the brand needs to assert itself — not to explain, but to be recognized. Its role is to create impact, not continuity. Eclisse should be treated as a punctuation mark, not a paragraph.

When it appears, it signals confidence, identity, and ownership.

AaBbCc

Eclisse

Eclisse

Eclisse (Signature Display Typeface)

Definition

Eclisse is the signature typeface of the MNPS brand.
It represents the highest level of expression within the typographic system and carries the strongest visual presence.

It is not neutral.
It is not functional.
It is declarative.

Eclisse exists to signal authorship, attitude, and positioning.

Purpose

Eclisse is used to:

- Create impact
- Sign the brand
- Mark strategic positioning
- Establish strong visual identity
- Anchor high-level statements

Approved Applications

Eclisse may be used in the following contexts:

- Single words
- Short headlines
- Covers
- Campaign materials
- Visual manifestos
- Motion titles

→ Posters

Eclisse must be used sparingly. Allow generous negative space around it to preserve impact.

Misuse Guidelines

Eclisse must never be:

- Used for running text
- Used for explanatory content
- Combined with Instrument Serif at the same hierarchical level
- Repeated multiple times within the same layout
- Applied without clear intent or compositional space

Its role is expressive and symbolic — never informational.

System Structure and Usage Logic

The MN Plastic Surgery typographic system operates on contrast and control. Hierarchy is defined by function first, expression second.

- One font leads.
- One may support.
- Never three competing.

Default Structure (No Expression Required)

- H1
 - Instrument Sans or Instrument Sans + Instrument Serif
- or
 - Eclisse alone (when impact is needed)

- H2
 - Instrument Sans

- Body
 - Instrument Sans

- Captions / Footnotes
 - Instrument Sans

This is the neutral structure.
Use it when clarity is the priority.

Precision is built
in the PLANNING

Why thoughtful surgical
design changes outcomes

Every successful procedure begins long before the operating room. It begins with listening, analysis, and structured decision-making. The planning phase defines proportions, technique, risk management, and recovery strategy. When the foundation is precise, the result feels natural and intentional — not forced or exaggerated.

Clarity in communication supports clarity in execution. Patients understand what will happen, why it matters, and what to expect. That transparency builds trust and reduces uncertainty throughout the process.

All procedures require individual evaluation and personalized planning

Controlled Variations

Hierarchy can shift — but only with intention.

1. Eclisse Lead

Eclisse as headline.

All supporting text in Instrument Sans.

No Serif in the same layout.

2. Hybrid Title

Headline in Instrument Sans.

1-2 words in Instrument Serif for contrast.

3. Sans-Only Layout

Entire composition in Instrument Sans.

Hierarchy defined by scale, spacing, and grid.

COMPROMISE

True surgical precision is not about excess. It is about control. Every decision is made with intention — from consultation to recovery — ensuring outcomes that feel aligned, balanced, and personal.

Weights & Styles

The MN Plastic Surgery typographic system is built on deliberate contrast and controlled weight. Instrument Sans and Instrument Serif form the foundation, allowing the brand to move between clarity and refinement with ease. Sans carries information with neutrality and comfort, while Serif introduces structure, rhythm, and visual gravity. Together, they create hierarchy through restraint, not decoration.

Eclisse sits outside the system as a signature. It carries more attitude, more density, and more presence. Used sparingly, it asserts identity rather than supporting content. Its power comes from contrast and limitation, ensuring the typography remains confident, focused, and unmistakably MNPS.

To create unity across our diverse expressions, we designed a typographic system built on consistency, not sameness.

Every piece of communication belongs to the same typographic family: Instrument Sans, Instrument Serif, and Eclisse — each with a defined role, weight, and intention.

This structure creates immediate recognition while allowing every message to adapt its tone, rhythm, and emphasis, expressing character without breaking the coherence of the MNPS ecosystem.

UNITY
NOT UNIFORMITY

PHOTOGRAPHY DIRECTION

06

MN Plastic Surgery photography prioritizes presence over performance.

Portraits are direct, composed, and emotionally contained, allowing individuality to emerge without exaggeration. Subjects are never posed to impress; they are positioned to exist. The gaze is calm, the posture grounded, and the expression honest — confident without invitation, intimate without exposure.

Detail shots shift the focus from faces to form: necks, torsos, skin, and gestures. These images add texture and humanity, emphasizing the body as lived-in, not idealized.

Together, the system avoids spectacle and perfection, creating a visual language that feels modern, human, and quietly authoritative — aligned with MN Plastic Surgery’s belief that confidence is not staged, it is recognized.

Color is used as a structural tool rather than an effect.

Solid backgrounds from the MN Plastic Surgery palette create contrast and focus, isolating form and identity without distraction. Skin texture, natural variation, and subtle asymmetries are preserved, reinforcing realism and trust. Retouching is minimal and intentional — refinement without erasure.

MN Plastic Surgery portraits and macro photographs represent a wide range of faces, skin tones, ethnicities, ages, and gender expressions. Diversity is not staged or segmented — it is presented naturally, with the same composure, lighting, and visual weight across every subject.

Portraits focus on individuality through subtle expression and presence, avoiding exaggerated emotion or imposed ideals. Macro images bring attention to skin, texture, and detail, reinforcing the body as real, varied, and lived-in. Differences are not corrected or equalized; they are preserved and respected.

ILLUSTRATIONS

Illustration System

MN Plastic Surgery illustrations are built on reduction, contrast, and control. Forms are simplified, silhouettes are confident, and negative space is used intentionally. Every element is precise — nothing decorative, nothing accidental.

Illustrations are not used to soften the brand. They exist to express identity with clarity and presence, avoiding realism and clinical literalism. This visual language aligns with MNPS's strategy: modern, human, and unapologetically distinct — refined through restraint, and unmistakably intentional.

Diversity of Beauty

These illustrations reflect a spectrum of bodies, hair textures, and proportions — not as categories, but as realities. Different silhouettes, volumes, and movements coexist without hierarchy, correction, or idealization.

For MN Plastic Surgery, this diversity reinforces a clear message: there is no single body to aspire to, no standard to conform to. Every form carries presence and legitimacy. By representing variation with the same visual weight and confidence, the brand affirms individuality as something inherent, not earned.

Color Usage

The illustration system was designed to function seamlessly across the entire brand color palette. The color relationships within the illustrations remain consistent, ensuring balance, contrast, and integrity regardless of context.

For this reason, illustration colors are never altered. Adaptation happens exclusively through the background color, which shifts to align with the desired tone, environment, or emphasis. This approach preserves visual coherence while allowing flexibility across light, dark, and high-impact applications.

Composition

Illustrations can fill the canvas or live within a defined rectangle. Full-bleed feels immersive and assertive. Contained compositions feel editorial and controlled. Both are intentional. One signals presence. The other signals curation.

The choice defines proximity — never accidental.

The Black Swan

The swan is not used as an aesthetic symbol.
It represents positioning.

In a category built on repetition, safety, and sameness, the swan embodies the outlier — calm on the surface, powerful underneath. It moves differently, carries presence without noise, and stands apart without asking for permission.

For MN Plastic Surgery, the swan reflects our role in the industry: independent, deliberate, and unapologetically distinct. It signals confidence without aggression, precision without spectacle, and authority without conformity.

This illustration is not about elegance. It is about choosing a different standard — and having the discipline to hold it.

VISUAL NARRATIVE

08

The Symbol Black Swan

This swan is built from gesture, tension, and direction. It is not illustrative. It is structural.

As a symbol, it connects directly to high-level surgery: when the final form appears simple, it is because many decisions came before it.

For MNPS, this swan represents absolute control of form. Not in an aesthetic sense, but in a decisional one. The form communicates a practice that does not rely on excess to prove competence. Everything in it is the result of choice: what is included, what is removed, and what remains. Nothing is superfluous. Nothing is missing. This mirrors exactly how MNPS operates clinically.

We believe that great results start long before the operating room. With listening. With honesty. With understanding who you are and how you want to feel in your own skin.

Graphic Seals

These graphic seals function as declarative brand markers. They are not decorative elements — they are statements.

Used across campaigns, covers, digital assets, and institutional materials, the seals reinforce MN Plastic Surgery positioning through repetition, contrast, and visual authority. They operate as stamps of intent — signaling standards, philosophy, and authorship.

Each variation adapts to color systems and layouts while preserving hierarchy and impact. They should feel bold, controlled, and intentional — never crowded, never ornamental.

A seal is not background texture. It is a signature in motion.

RIB CONTOURING

M

Precision, by design

Precision

Rib contouring refines waist shape when anatomy — not weight — is the limiting factor.

Purpose

This procedure is about proportion, not exaggeration. Structure, not trends.

Approach

Every case starts with listening and analysis. No templates. No assumptions. Only what fits your body.

Context

Rib contouring is often part of advanced body contouring or gender-affirming care, where balance matters more than volume.

Standard

This is complex surgery performed with restraint and judgment.

We don't promise perfection. We promise results that feel perfect in your own skin.

OUTLIER BY DESIGN

FACIAL LIPOSUCTION

M

Precision, by design

Precision

Facial liposuction refines the lower face and jawline when fullness blurs structure. Not to change your face — but to reveal it. At MNPS, this is contouring, not reduction.

Intent

Not sharpness for shock value. Clarity. The goal is definition that looks natural, balanced, and intentional — never hollow or aggressive.

Method

We begin with facial anatomy and listening. Bone structure, fat compartments, skin quality, and movement all matter.

Context

Facial liposuction is often performed above the jawline or combined with other facial procedures, where subtle adjustments create the strongest result.

Standard

This is precise, high-skill surgery that demands restraint.

We don't chase sharp trends. We design contours that still look like you — just clearer.

WWW.MNPS.COM

OUTLIER BY DESIGN

BROW LIFT

M

Precision, by design

Precision

A brow lift restores balance to the upper face when heaviness or descent alters expression, not to change how you look — but how you're heard.

Intent

This is not about elevation. It's about alignment. The goal is a natural brow position that feels calm, open, and true to your face.

Method

We begin with facial analysis and listening. Structure, movement, and expression guide every decision. No templates. No forced results. Only what fits you.

Integration

A brow lift is often combined with eyelid surgery or facial refinement, where small adjustments create meaningful clarity. Subtle changes. Real impact.

Standard

This is delicate surgery, guided by restraint and judgment.

We don't chase youth. We restore clarity — so your expression matches how you feel.
